

Inter-Sorority Council Statement on Nu Omega Iota

The Inter-Sorority Council at the University of Virginia consists of fifteen nationally recognized women's fraternities/sororities and an associate chapter. The Inter-Sorority Council and Fraternity & Sorority Life neither support nor condone the activities of any assembled group representing itself as a Greek letter organization that is not currently recognized by either the Inter-Sorority Council or an (inter)national organization.

At the University, there currently exists a group of students who claim to represent an "independent sorority." This group, Nu Omega Iota, is not affiliated with the Inter-Sorority Council or any Greek Governing Council at the University of Virginia. Nu Omega Iota is not a legitimate option for gaining membership into the fraternity/sorority community and is operating as an unrecognized organization that is not engaged in any process to gain recognition.

Nu Omega Iota does not forward the fraternal values of our recognized fraternities and sororities and undermines the integrity of our fraternity/sorority community. If a woman were to join Nu Omega Iota, she would not be offered the rights, privileges, and benefits that come with membership in a sorority that is recognized by the Inter-Sorority Council and/or an (inter)national organization.

The Inter-Sorority Council seeks to provide for the well-being and safety of the members of its recognized organizations. Women who wish to become members of the sorority system at the University may participate in the Inter-Sorority Council's Formal Recruitment process in the spring or Informal Recruitment process in the fall. We encourage any women contemplating membership in Nu Omega Iota to carefully consider this information when making this decision.
